BRIAN RADLEY, FAIRVIEW HEIGHTS,
SENTENCED TO DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
FOR PROBATION VIOLATIONS IN JACKSON COUNTY

Michael C. Carr, Jackson County State's Attorney, announced today that a Fairview Heights man, Brian Radley, 39, was sentenced to the Illinois Department of Corrections after entering into a negotiated disposition on two Jackson County cases in which he had previously been sentenced to serve a probation term.

On December 7, 2016, Murphysboro Police officers arrested Radley for a violation of an order of protection. A search of Radley incident to arrest revealed that he had a controlled substance in his possession. Radley pled guilty to Possession of a Controlled Substance, a Class 4 Felony, and was placed on probation for 24 months, with certain terms imposed by the Court with which he was to comply. He did not comply with the terms as ordered, and a Petition to Revoke his Probation was filed.

On October 4, 2017, Murphysboro Police officers responded to a call for assistance from a female who had previously lived with Radley. The victim told police that Radley approached her as she sat in a vehicle and then pushed her onto a bed once they went inside a residence. On January 16, 2018, Radley pled guilty to a charge of the domestic battery, a charge which had been elevated to a Class 4 Felony because he had previously been convicted of domestic battery. He was placed on probation for a period of 24 months, with certain terms imposed by the Court with which he was to comply. He did not comply with the terms as ordered, and a Petition to Revoke his Probation was filed.

Radley entered admissions to the each of the Petitions to Revoke on May 29, 2018. He was resentenced to serve two years in the Illinois Department of Corrections for each offense, which will be served concurrently, and followed by a total of four years of Mandatory Supervised Release.

Both investigations were conducted by the Murphysboro Police Department. Assistant State's Attorneys Mark Hamrock and Penny J. Pierson were responsible for the prosecution of the cases.
